Music Moves Me

These students were caught in the spotlights as they performed to the theme song

The last day of May The last day of May went out in an explo-sion of music, song and dance for the students at Madoc Public School as they presented the last of three performances of their musical

Me.'
It was a fast paced, well balanced revue in which the students whole, performed almost flawlessly. The few little slip-ups by some of the younperformers added immeasurably to the magic of the evening and through-out the show, the student performers enacted their roles with enthusiasm and presenting eight song and dance routines and dance routines which covered the range of musicx from ballad to rock. To the music of the theme song 'Music Moves Me' dancers romped through the aisles on onto and around the stage setting the scene for the the presentation of Six Little Ducks by students from the junior grades. Dressed in costumes and trying hard to waddle like ducks these children were warmly received by the audience.

Next came a spir

Next came a spirited rendering of Supercalifragilisticexpialidocious followed by a playlet developed by teacher Nama Walther, about a cat who had died, was ministered to by lady cats and doctors to no avail. There was a happy ending though, because the smell of fish revived him and they all danced happily off.

The music of Gonna Build a Mountain and Build a Mountain and Sunrise Sunset brought a change of pace but not for long. Rock Around The Clock saw eleven couples rocking in the aisles and on the stage and in the next number a donkey, a pig and a fish para-ded around in a presentation of the song Swinging on a Star.

Such was the impact of this whole performance, that the audience sponta-neously stood and gave the cast a gave the cast a prolonged round of applause. This did not go un-noticed by Principal John Murphy who thanked the audience and said In the past two nights I asked the audience to stand and show their appreciation to the students. I am gratified by your response and proud response and proud of the children who took part tonight. In acknowledging all of the people who helped put this show together he made special mention of Catherine Althoff, a parent who had devoted many hours of her time to choreograph the musical.

About four weeks of hard rehearsals had gone into this production and those production and those people who had an opportunity to see the show will no doubt retain a pleasant memory of the even-ing for much longer than that.

Students Against Drunk Driving

These buttons are on sale to raise funds for CHSS S.A.D.D. program

The beginnings of a chapter of SADD (Students Against Drunk Driving) is taking place in taking place in Centre Hastings Secondary School. Two students, Jennifer Mohan and er Mohan and Student President Leo Butler together with Mr. Jim Berry, a teacher, recently attended a SADD conference in Gana-noque along with students from across the Province. Groundwork being carried out at CHSS and some promotional material has been presented been presented because the but but because the school year is draw-ing to a close, the main thrust of the program will begin in September.

One of the major features of this this education education and prevention program is the 'Contract for Life' Designed to act as a safeguard against death from drunken driving this contract is between a student and his/her parents.Basically it calls for the teenager to call for advice and or transportation at any hour and from any hour and from any place if he/she has been drinking or is with a friend who is driving has been drinking. The parent in return agrees to fetch the teenager at any hour and from any place or to provide safe trans-portation with no questions asked at that time. Additionally the parent agrees to seek safe, sober transportation home in a similar situation.

This document has

This document has proved controversial in many areas with some parents feeling that if they sign this contract, they are giving permission for their teenagers to drink. Another area of concern is whether or not a teenager who has been drinking is capable of deciding whether or not he or she is fit to drive or should call home.

It is perhaps not the most effective way of addressing the problem nor is there any easy solu-tion. However it is far less traumatic to talk to a hungover teenager the morning after than it is to be sitting in a funeral home faced with a lifetime of guilt and aguish because you didn't

Drinking and Boating Don't Mix

An amendment to the Criminal Code last December brought the operation of boats and aircraft under the same section dealing with the operation of a motor vehicle.

This new law will give police an opportunity to deal more effectively with alcohol related offences by boaters, especially as the incidence of drinking boaters has caused some concern throughout the province.

Essentially what this means is, if you are charged with being in charge of a boat whilst intoxicated, it reflects upon you as an operator of a vehicle. If you have on your record an impaired driving charge for driving your car or truck while impaired and you are charged with an alcohol related boating offence, then the boating offence is your second impaired offence and will be subject to the stiffer penalties of a repeat offence.

Impaired boaters Impaired boaters with a string of previous convictions for impaired driving could wind up losing their drivers licences. So far this year there have been two instances of people being found guilty of impaired boating who have lost their driving licences, suffered heavy fines and been banned from operat-ing their boat for a period of a year. The local O.P.P. detachment will be operating their marine patrol unit again this year on local lakes and the new law will allow them to carry the ALERT alcohol screening devices

Quinte International Air Show.

The new Quinte International Air Show, which will be presented for the first time under that name on June 28 and 29, is the result of a 29, is the result of a success story which began more than 50 years ago, when it was known as a Sports Day. Back in 1929, it was announced that a new home for the Royal Canadian Air Force would be built at Trenton, Ontario and by 1931, the base was officially opened. A short time later, the base started holding an annual event which was called Sports Day. It consisted mainly of consisted mainly of an intersection sports competition, but it also included ground displays of aircraft and equipment plus a flying demonstration. Siskin Fighters would make low-level passes and indulge in a few aerobatics. Shark Torpedo Bombers would show off their water takeoff and landing techniques and the big Atlas Bombers would fly over in formation and would demons-trate their agility by picking up a cable picking up a cable strung between two arcrews stood by to answer questions. Although history provides no details, it is probably safe to say that for the near-ly 1000 men still employed in the construction of the base, those early air shows must have provided a welcome distraction. Records do show that unskilled labourers oo show that unskilled labourers were paid $5.00 per month, plus board and clothing, for a six-day work week. Over the years the Trenton air show has grown with the base. From its humble beginnings as part of a sports day in the early thirties, it became known as Air Force Day on June 14, 1947. With the unification of the Canadian Forces on February 1, 1968, the day became Armed Forces Day, with an attendance last year of approximately 75,000.

Today several large units are located in Trenton, including three transport squadrons, a search and rescue squadron, the Air Transport Group Headquarters, the Canadian Forces Training System Headquarters and the Aerospace Main-tenance Developtenance ment Unit.

It is also the home of the new Quinte International Air Show which is scheduled this year for June 28 and 29.

The 'Big Cheese' comes to the match

When you think of Hastings County, you think of cheese. The county has long been known as a major cheese producer since 1866. To honor International Plowing Match and Farm Machinery Show, hosted by Hastings, the orga-nizers have made a 'Big Cheese'. The cheese is 3200 pounds of cheddar cheese. It measures four feet across and four feet across and four and a half feet high. Made last September at the local Harold Cheese Factory, it required three vats of milk, approximately 36,000 pounds. The cheese was pressed into a large stainless steel hoop, borrowed from the Millbank Cheese Factory and is now being aged. The cheese will be considered 'old' cheese by time of the Match.

Cheese continues to be an important industry in Hastings. In 1881, records showed 48 factories producing cheddar Eleven cheese million pounds exported from the district that year.

Production continues to remain high, with Belleville as the market centre. Excellent water, rail and road connections to the farming areas made the city a natural centre market for the product.

When you visit the International Plowing Match, take the opportunity to see the Big Cheese. The Match will be held September 16 to 20, near Stirling, Hast-

How safe is sweet clover for cattle?

clover Sweet poisoning was first recognized in 1930 as a disease that occurred in cattle who were fed sweet clover hay. Symp-toms of sweet clover poisoning include internal hemorrhage and bleeding. Hemorrhage occurs under the skin and if it is extensive enough, death follows. In less severe cases, bleed ing may persist only following surgery or injury.

Animals with this Animals with this bleeding disease all have a common history of eating a sweet clover hay. Just before dying, the animals become pale and have an increased pulse rate. Post mortem examinations show extensive hemorrhage as the usual outstanding feature as either an eruption of blood vessels in the tissues or leakage of blood. There also tends to be purple discoloration of the skin and minute, circular hemorrhages on the surface of the skin, mucous membranes and internal organs.

Sweet clover disease is caused by a very potent agent a very potent agent since many animals in a herd may die. In all cases, sweet clov-er which had become mouldy was found in the cattle feeder. The mould in the sweet clover produces the toxic agent, dicou-marol, which is resposible for the disease.

Dicoumarol, which is produced by the mould associated with sweet clover, impairs the synthesis of several factors required for blood coagulation. If these factors are not present extensive hemorrhage occurs.

If rapid blood loss occurs, an acute crisis is observed. If the blood loss is gradual or minimal, no effect is observed until surgery or some type of tissue injury occurs. Then a swelling, which is just a collection of blood in the area, occurs. This swelling can occur swelling can occur anywhere on the body but it is usually seen on the inside of the thigh and at the shoulder joint. Other notable signs include an absence of any symptoms of infec-tion, such as heat or high temperature. tion, such as heat or high temperature. There is also a marked weakness due to blood loss before death. This results in symptoms such as stiffness of the gait, weakness and constipation. In a recent study conducted by investi-gators at the Ontario Veterinary College, 3 calves were tested. One was fed hay, a second was fed moulsecond was red mounted was fed good sweet clover. After several weeks, all three calves were castrated. The calf fed on hay made a full recovery, the one fed on good sweet clover was ill for one week and then recovered while the one fed on mouldy sweet clover died within a few hours. This research study suggests the agent responsible for the disease is present in the feed, and is more prevalent in mouldy feed. What remains puzzling about this disease is the fact that farmers have fed sweet clover to their herds for years without any problems. The answer to this stems from the fact that every farmer grows, harvests and stores hay differently. New harvesting and stor-age methods favor mould formation and dicoumarol produc-tion. The guilty clov-er seems to be a strain which dries poorly and is harvested under moist conditions.

Treatment for this disease starts with the removal of sweet clover hay from the feed. Veterinarians will also treat the cattle with Vitamin K or blood transfusions.

Inhibitors in Milk New Campaign

Keeping the milk supply free from inhibitors, such as antibiotics, is the message of a new education campaign by the OMMB. 'People can develop severe allergic reactions to even the smallest trace of antibiotics in the food supply 'Board Chair-supply,' Board Chair-man Ken McKinnon said. Producers could also be liable if someone falls seri-ously ill as a result of consuming contami-nated milk.

Apart from the health concerns, the industry incurs tremendous financial losses when a truck-load of milk, or a storage silo of milk at storage silo of milk at a processing plant has to be dumped because of inhibitor contamination. Farmers who have any doubts about the inhibitor level of their milk should not ship the milk. 'It is not worth the risk, either to themselves not worth the risk, either to themselves or to the industry,' Mr. McKinnon said. To deal more effec-tively with offenders, the Board is asking the Farm Products Marketing Board (Milk Commission of Ontario) to increase the penalty levels to producers who ship inhibitor-contaminated milk.

The Board also plans increase to increase its producer education program by provid-ing more information on the problems and the precautions and procedures required to prevent contami-nated milk from nated milk from getting into farm bulk tanks.

Agricultural chemicals are impor-tant tools beneficial to crop production. But, just like any other tool, careful other tool, careful management and understanding of agricultural chemials is required.

It's Feeding Time For Your ALFALFA:

High yielding alfalfa has high requirements for plant food nutrients. A five ton crop, for example, takes up 50 lbs. of phosphorous and 250 lbs. of potassium from the soil. You need a generous fertilization program to supplement the soils nutrient supply

Right now is the time to begin, so stop by or give us a call. We're the people to see when it comes to keeping crops profitable

Don't forget that the alfalfa weevil also wants to harvest your crop. Peak infestations usually coincide with the bud stage of the first crop. See us about Pfizer Furadan 480L to control the hungry predators.

Help Heidi Fund

Donations are still coming in for the Help Heidi fund. Madoc Public School raised funds from the sale of refreshments at their recent Music Moves Me performances. Donation jars set on counters in many of the stores throughout the community are getting filled up. Employees at Black Diamond cheese are into their fundraising. More and More people it seems are helping out as the word spreads.

The Madoc Township Firemen and the OPP with their mascot Goathill Gertie will putting on a ball(?) game on Tuesday the 10th at the Eldorado diamond to raise money for the fund.

Pauline Hill reports that $67.20 was raised at a dessert sale at the Madoc Township Public School. Mothers of the grades 4 and 6 students provided the desserts which were sold to teachers and students at a nominal

The Red Cross reminds you that drinking and driving a boat is dangerous and illegal. Not only is the salety of everyone in your boat at risk, but everyone out on the lake could be jeopardized. The laws of the land are also the laws of the water. Think twice before you mix drinking and water activities.

ing an activities. Last year, 43 per cent of all boating fatalities alcohol-related were drownings. This year, new drunk boating laws will crack down or maired boaters.

Ontario March of Dimes launches new campaign

The Ontario March of Dimes is expand-ing its fundraising ing its fundraising efforts to assist adults with physical adults with physical disabilities. A new Summer Campaign will appeal for donations across the province during the month of June. The goal of the campaign is to raise $300.000. Dr. David Logan, president of the organization, says. This is an important new venture for the Ontario March of Dimes. We, and the physically disabled adults we assist, need adults we assist, need generous contributions from everyone.

Dr. Logan added that the Summer Campaign will Campaign will become an annual event as is the Ability Fund Campaign held and January February

The Ontario March of Dimes provides many and varied services. They range from the provision of mobility aids such as wheelchairs and artiwheelchairs and arti-ficial limbs to assis-tance with housing and employment. One very special program that begins soon is the Ontario March of Dimes' camps. These camps provide a holiday in the sun for many the sun for many people who are in total-care facilities and rarely get a recreational break outdoors. They also-accommodate accommodate couples who other-wise might never have a chance to vacation together. One such couple were recently

One such couple were recently married. Linda Thibault and Dean Robinson of Lindsay, who will be horiey-mooning at one of the camps in August. Both attended camp in 1984, and are looking forward to spending a very special time together this year. The Ontario March of Dimes is only able to provide these important services through generous donations and grants. Watch your mail for an appeal, and please, give as gener-ously as you are able. Donations can also be sent to Summer Campaign, Ontario March of Dimes, 60 Overlea Blvd., Ontario,

by James Alfred

As the age of computers advanced upon us the entire technology left me behind. I'm so far behind now that I can't even set my new digital watch. I made up my mind years ago that I was old enough to escape the need to learn the new world of compu-ters. Unfortunately for me the develop-ment of robotics and computers has been so fast that I must change to survive. This technology has caught up and passed I am now faced with the reality that I must learn must learn.

I began the learning process with a short seminar on robotics and was flabergasted at what I learned. Robots I learned. Robots cost four dollars per hour to run now and within five years that cost will be down to one dollar per hour. That cost includes the purchase price and maintenance. At the same time robot costs are dropping the cost of manpower

the cost of manpower is going up.
Robots work continuously and accurately. They produce a better product cheaper. At the same time workers tend to be absent, inattentive and imperfect and true to human nature demand more wages more holidays and more benefits.

Canada compared to other advanced nations has a low usage of robots. The massive shift to this high tech automation has yet to be really felt in Canada. felt in Canada. Because of this our labour force must soon experience retraining or early retirement. But the leap into this high tech robotics is a must. In the Legislature recently, Jim Pollock, M.P.P. for Hastings-Peterborough, recog-nized the efforts of local firefighters, service clubs and service clubs and volunteers in their work toward estab-lishing a training centre for volunteer firefighters.

On May 25, Mr. Pollock was present for the kick-off of the fund raising campaign which is being organized by Gerry Peters During this event, Mr. this event. Mr. Pollock presented the association with an Ontario Flag which Ontario Flag which will be flown over the sight along with the official flag of the centre which was designated by local fredighters firefighters.

The centre, which will be known as the EASTERN ONTAR-IO VOLUNTEER FIREFIGHTERS where the association has already purchased the land have and commenced work on access roads.

During his speech,
Mr. Pollock
commended the idea

the address. Wes Farrell of Thomas-burg read the lesson. Dianne Cole, District Deputy President of Hayelock Rebekah Lodge, led the sing-ing. She was accom-panied by Cecil Hagerman and Earl Langdon of Madoc Lodge.

Brownson welcomed the members and guests. He told those attend-ing that the annual church service was one of the most important events organized by the district. "It gets us out together." he said, "and gives us an opportunity to stress the religious part of our Order, as well as meet members and their families from the other lodges in District 45."

Mrs. Grant Airhart and family presented District 45 with a shield in memory of the late Grant Airhart, who was a dedicated member of the Independent Order of Oddfellows DDGM. Perry Brownson accepted the shield on behalf of District 45. He explained that the shield would have the name of each succeeding District Deputy Grand Deputy Grand Master of District 45 engraved on it, begin-ning with himself. The shield will be on display in the home of the DDGM during his term of office. Mr. Brownson thanked Mrs. Airhart and her family for their thoughtfulness, adding that Grant had contributed a great deal to his Lodge and to his municipality, where he had served as councillor and reeve. His dedication will continue to inspire us, Mr. Brownson said.

For the third consecutive year, the Ontario Sailing Association is offering sailing instruction for all age groups over 10, with all equipment supplied. The classes are designed to make learning to sail fun, easy and safe. The instructors are all nationally certified nationally certified and students will receive C.Y.A. certification for the level of proficiency they achieve.

"We have intro-duced sailing to about 70 people who would not otherwise have tried it." says organizer, Anne Phil-ipot. "And I know there are more out there that would like to give it a whirl, but haven't quite got the nerve. These classes are designed for those people. This may be the last chance, as I am not expecting to run clas-ses next year."

Hubble family picnic planned for August 17th

The Nehemiah Hubble Family Heritage Organization plans to hold its annual gathering this year at Kosh Lake on Sunday, August 17th newlychartered organizachartered organiza-tion represents the descendants of Nehe-miah and Lucinda Hubble who came to Ontario in 1784. They received a land grant in Rawdon Township, now known as Hubble Hill United Empire Lovalist Cemetery. Loyalist Cemetery, located on the road between Stirling and Campbellford.

While the core of the family remains in the Stirling - Have-lock area, later lock area, later generations moved to Peterborough, Norwood, Hastings, Apsley, Bancroft, Marmora, Madoc and Belleville, At the present time, there are Hubble (also spelled Hubbel) descendants all across Canada and into the United States.

Some members of the executive recen-tly paid a visit to Bruce McCausland of Bruce McCausland of St. Catharines, who is researching the fami-ly and has produced a geneology book list-ing about 15,000 descendants which he estimates to be about half of them. It is hoped that addi-tional copies of the book will be available for purchase at this year's gathering.

Bus leaves from Havelock

Deposits are usually required, but they may be fully or partially refundable within a specific time period and under certain conditions. Check details about refunds before signing up and keep depo-sits as small as possible. Even when the final choice has been made and hours have made and hours have been spent sewing name tags on every one of the child's socks, some parents still worry; Connett says. Many claim they are concerned about their children getting home-sick, he says.

The funny thing is, the child is usually quite ready to stay away from home, but the parents aren't."

Campfire safety tips

Hundreds of forest fires are caused by people being careless with fire.

An improperly constructed campfire is a main source of ignition during the summer months.

All outdoor users are encouraged to use portable campstoyes, rather than use portable camps-toves rather than campfires for all outdoor cooking. If a campfire should be used, the following precautions must be taken to construct it safely: Be sure to choose area of hard packed earth, sand or rock;

- Clear away all flammable material;

a Keep fires small and don't ring it with rocks that could hide smouldering embers. The most important thing to remember is to drown all campfires 'DEAD OUT' before leaving the site.

smoking material is a significant source of ignition for wild-fires. Everyone must learn to BE CARElearn to BE CARE-FUL with all types of smoking material and matches; never smoke while walking in the woods and when driving always use the ashtray. Forest Fire Prevention is mostly

CVCA operating eight programs with a $344,000

The number of employees working for the Crowe Valley for the Crowe Valley Conservation Authority (CVCA) has recently climbed to a seasonal high of 42. The Authority has eight varied prog-rams operating at this time with a combined budget of about $344,000. The Bancroft Mini-combined budget of about $344,000.

The Bancroft Ministry of Natural Resoures is coordinating three projects which operate in their area. The first project is known as the "Schleroderris Eradication" program. It involves eradicating a European race of tree disease from infected red pines in the vicinity of McArthur's Mills in Mayo Township. If this disease was allowed to spread without any effort to control it, there could be a loss of jobs in the softwood industry. This project should prevent the further loss of valuable trees. Eight employees are carrying out preventative measures in

The reasons behind agressive behavior selves. Problems occur when the owner gets involved and shows favoritism to the subordinate

Dr. Landsberg says that subordinate says that subordinate dogs do not expect to be favored. They expect the dominant dog to get everything first. The solution is to change the owners display of affection.

"When a child is born, the foot is so flexible that injuries sometimes aren't recognized and many times the parent doesn't ward to see them," and many times the perent doesn't ward to see them," attates Dr. Jacobo, president of the American Podatinst Society. They come into my office." he continued, months after they should have brought the child for the see that they should have brought often they should have brought often they come because an aunt or other relative noticed some aggression.

hold matter. One familiar behavioral problem is aggressive behavior in dogs. There are a wide variety of aggressive behaviors and they have been described in a recent book by B. L. Hart titled Canine and Felime Behavioral Therapy. Dominance-related aggression and fear-related aggression are two of the more common aggressions. Two case studies have been sions. Two case studies have been selected from this book to illustrate these common these common problems. Case study 1: For the past year Pamela, a spayed female English Springer Spaniel, has snapped and bitten at people. She recently bit a houseguest and now negularly growls at the owner. Pamela has always been possessive of her food and other things. Pamela is showing dominance-related aggression.

Dominancerelated aggression derives from an inherent tendency of animals to try to be dominant. Cats tend not to display dominance-related aggression because they are asocial. Cats prefer to avoid each other and do not interact with humans
in a dominative-Dominance in a dominative-subordinative

Dogs are a different matter. Dr. Gary Landsberg, an authority in animal behavior problems, states 'Dogs have to be dominated. If you don't control the dog, the dog will control you. If a dog is dominant over its owner it will disobey the owner's commands and will the owner's commands and will growl and snap. The dominant dog expects you to back down

One solution to dominance-related aggression is to dominance-related aggression is to change the situation and make the owner dominant. Behavioral therapy teaches owners that they have to be the boss and more importantly, it teaches them how to be the boss.

'You have to show favoritism to the dominant dog. You have to feed it first and pat it first.' This will maintain the dominant. Dominance-related aggression can be found between dogs and owners as well as between dogs themselves. In a house-hold with two or more dogs, one dog will be dominant while the others will be subordinate. Dr. Landsberg explains 'In most cases, dogs work it out themselves. Problems will maintain the dominantsubordinate relationship already established by the dogs.

Case study 2: The owners of Debbie, a Golden Retriever,
live under the flight
path of an Air Force base. For some time
she has Teacted base. For some time she has "reacted strongly to infrequent thunderstorms. Recently, tests of a new airplane engine began to occur about once a week. Debbie becomes very upset when she hears the noise of this particu-lar plane. She claws

Debbie is showing fear-related

Landsberg fear-related says fear-related aggression is partly inherited and attempts to escape. The many different causes of fear-related aggression range from noises (thunderstorms, fireworks) to separation anxiety when the dog is left alone for an extended period of time.

Dr. Landsberg says that in many cases an owner inadsays says that in many cases an owner inadvertently rewards the dog for its fears. He gives the example of an owner taking the dog onto his/her lep and comforting it during a thunder-storm. The dog asso-ciates its fears with receiving lots. of affection. Treatment involves a gradual exposure to the fear stimulant through behavior , modification. It is important to penavior modification.

It is important to remember that there is always a reason behind aggressive behavior whether it is learned, inherited or innate. Behavioral therapy teaches the owner how to control the dog and helps to change the dog's aggressive behavior. The elimination of a behavioral problem is challenging but the end result is the reward of a well adjusted, socially acceptable pet.

Orphaned birds should be kept wild

By Mike Singleton

In spring and early summer, in Ontaric alone, 500 million to one billion young birds, a year's generation, leave their spests. Many of them, particularly young starlings, grackles, robins and blue jays (all of which breed commonly in-settled areas) are found by people (especially children) who assume that the birds assume that the birds are in trouble and need to be 'rescued' The inclination to that. efforts by humans to help young birds usually have the opposite effect and ultimately instill the wrong message about the appropriate relationship between people and wild animals.

Most people assume that young birds are raised in the nest until they are able to fend for themselves and fly away, and therefore that any flightless, obviously immature bird on the ground must on the ground must be in trouble. This is not the case

Young songbirds grow at an astonishingly rapid rate between hatching and fledging (developing their flight feathers) at 2-3 weeks. For most birds the naked and blind hatchings are oblivious to their surroundings. surroundings, responding only to a parent's call or parent's call or movements. As they grow, they become more aware of their environment and by day 10 a feet environment and by day 10 a fear response is evoked by sudden movements around the nest, despite the fact that if undisturbed, they would stay there another three to four days. This premature departure means: that the young leave before they are fully capable of flight.

Although more vulnerable to predation (and well meaning rescuers), these young birds are not fear ing rescuers), these young birds are not abandoned. The parents will respond to the food call of the fledgling and will continue to do so for the next 10 to 14 days. Meanwhile, the Meanwhile, the young will learn to find their own food, develop their powers of flight, and gradu-ally become more capable in dealing

So says a report to the annual meeting of the Bay of Quinte Conference of the United Church of Canada by the Rev. Jamie Scott, Ottawa. Conference met in Perth last weekend.

Perth last weekend.
Rev. Scott is currently working on contract to the Inter-church Council on Justice and Correction. He mentioned that polls show 68% of the population are in favour of the death penalty but the same polls indicate that 80% have never read anything about the

The reason for this increased interest is due to the recent case of Clifford Olsen and the number of police killings in the past year, he said. But he call for the death penalty on this basis somer a reaction that seeks a quick fix for the problem. What people are really saying is that they are afraid and want to be protected and feel safe, he said. Scott said that there are several myths associated with the death penalty. For instance, some prison guards and police officers have themselves asked that the death penalty not be reinstated because it tends to create a siege mentality with criminals who feel they have nothing to lose after one murder. He also cited

Help prevent forest fires

Each year hundred's of wild-fires occur Approxi-mately 90 percent of these fires are caused by people being careless with debris burning terass brush.

debris burning (grass, brush, garbage) smoking materials campfires.
Most of these fires are caused by rural residents, farmers, private cottagers, car passengers, fishermen campers. The cost of putting out these man caused fires amounts to thousands of ollars each year. All dollars each year. All of us, as tax payers, must bear the burden for this carelessness.

HOW TO BURN SAFELY:

SAFELY: 1. Always burn debris during early morning or evening hours. (Before 10 a.m. and after 6 p.m.) Keep fire fighting equip-ment near by. (Water hoses, rakes and shovels) Never burn when the winds are strong and do not leave fire leave free unattended!

2. If burning with an incinerator keep it at least 15 feet from trees or buildings, clear area to mineral soil or bare rock for at least 5 feet around your barrell. Always place a wire mesh top (holes no larger than 1/4 inch) over the incinerator.

3. Car passengers must always use ashtrays for smoking materials along the madways. If care-time-graded roadways. If care-lessly discarded these glowing these glowing embers can be dead-ly to our forests and go?

Where to go fishing in the Tweed District largely depends on what species of fish you wish to catch. The species of fish often depends on the type of lake you fish which in turn depends on the general so the gene depends on the gener-al geology of the area.

The Tweed District of the Ministry of Natural Resources has a variety of geological features. The Canadian Shield occupies the northern part of the district and running through the southeast part of the district is a geological formation geological formation cailed the Frontenac Axis. The Canadian Shield is characterized by shallow soils and bare rocky outcrops. The lakes on the Canadian Shield are generally deep and clear. This is where the majority of the district's lake trout, brook trout, rainbow trout and splake lakes are

The southwestern part of the district is part of the district is on a limestone plain. The soils are generally deeper although there are many areas where the limestone is exposed. The lakes in this area are in this area are generally not very deep and have thick deposits of organic material on the lake bottom. These lakes are most often quite productive and provide excellent warm water fisheries (i.e. bass and walleye).

What has Tweed District got to offer if your preference is lake trout fishing? Tweed District has more lake trout lakes than any other district in the miniother otstrict in the mili-stry's eastern region. About 30 lakes are managed exclusively for lake trout. These lakes tend to be the larger lakes in the district such as Mazi-naw and Weslemkoon. However, some of the lake trout lakes such as Bailey. Barnard and Big Ohlman lakes are quite small. Most of the lakes, such as Palmerston. Brule, Ashby and Sharbot support excellent natural reproduction. whereas others such as Mazinaw and quickly.)

Keep both feet on the foot pegs at all times while the vehicle is in motion. Stabilizing the machine by putting your foot down is a sure way to run over it

Turning is tricky at first. Steer in the direction you want to go. Shift your weight to the outside peg and lean your upper body into the turn.

To recover from a skid. - shift your weight forward and steer into the skid. Don't change the throttle position or brake until you have regained control.

Eagle depend heavily on stocking. The Tweed District also has many more brook trout lakes than any other-district in the mini-stry's eastern region. There are about 60 lakes that are stocked with brook trout. Although lakes such as Rock, South such as Rock, South Quinn and Sullivan are good sized, the majority of the brook trout lakes are under 10 ha in size. A number of these brook trout lakes have their best access in the winter hy snowmachine and by snowmachine and most of the lakes are fished most heavily then. Excellent spring fishing also Syring and assertists.

Normally about 14 lakes in the Tweed District are stocked with rainbow trout. These lakes are scattered across the north half of the district. Most of the lakes stocked with rainbow trout are relatively small although some, such as Mosque and Mair lakes are good sized lakes are good sized lakes. The rainbow lakes appear to be most popular for fish-ing in the spring and summer.

The splake is a relatively new species in the Tweed District. Four lakes were stocked with splake in 1983 and additional 16 lakes additional 16 lakes were scheduled to be were scheduled to be stocked in 1984. Splake have become a very popular sport fish in many parts of Ontario and it is anti-cipated that they will be successful in the be successful in the Tweed District as well

Bass Bass are found commonly throughout the Tweed District. Large mouth bass are most often associated with shallow lakes or shallow bays in lakes. Old stumps and weed beds provide cover for the bass. Many of the lakes with good small mouth bass fisheries are relativeout the Tweed ly deep and have rocky shorelines and shoals in the lakes. Walleye (yellow pickerel) and north-ern pike are also found throughout the Tweed District. Popular walleye lakes include lakes in lakes include lakes in the southern portion of the district such as Crowe, Moira, Stoco and Beaver. It has sat virtually unused since 1961 when the students of the school were transferred to the transferred to the new Madoc Township Public School. Some ten or fifteen years ago, it was offered to the residents of Ohara for use as a community facility. as were other unused schools in the township. The council of the day made the offer subject to conditions that would have seen the building properly maintained. The offer was not taken up by the community.

The concensus of opinion was that in such a case, it might opinion was that in such a case, it might be sold to some-one who could afford the purchase price but-not have the means whereby to maintain or improve the prop-erty. They were afraid the site might speaking with solic members of the coun-cil it became 'clear that they are not unaware of the need to preserve our herit-age where practical. There is a need to preserve our herit-age buildings where-ever possible particu-larly if they are of historic significance. The site of the Ohara School does have some historic signifi-cance in that the first school in Madoc Township was built there. Squire Ohara erected a log school house there in 1830. This was followed by a frame school house and later by the old brick building.

If there is sufficient interest in a conser vancy programme, perhaps now is the time for a group to be formed that would catalogue the older buildings in the area.

They could then maintain a watching brief on the buildings brief on the buildings of interest, so that when the time comes that they appear on the market for sale appropriate actions could be taken to preserve them for posterity.

If this plan were adopted, perhaps it would eliminate the emotional outbursts. acrimony and recriminations that surrounded the demise of the Ohara School. These actions too, will become part of our heritage.

The streets in Madoc resembled a gigantic parking lot on Wednesday last as shoppers flocked to the A & N Store to take advantage of their close out sale. According to some shoppers it was shoppers it was bedlam in the store with line-ups of up to 20 minutes to get through the cash registers. Parking was the big problem for a lot of people, or so it seems from some of the remarks overheard on the street. One old timer said that he had never seen as many cars in Madoc at one time as he had that

The big storm that blew through the area last week didn't blew through the area last week didn't cause as much damage as might have been suspected from such strong winds. Scattered reports through the townships indicate that we escaped quite lightly. There were reports of trees coming down and limbs on some of the side roads as well as the odd tree falling close to buildings. The Northern part of Madoc Township saw a few smaller buildings collapsed and a few roads being washed out. In Marmora village, a car was reported to have been damaged by a fallen tree, but there were no reports of injuries or severe property damage. It was recently that the Car Demolition Derby to be held in Madoc had to be cancelled due to problems in obtain-ing suitable insuring suitable insur-ance coverage. Township retirement

A retirement lunc heon was held last Thursday at Madoc Township offices for Lynn Holmes. Lynn, who has been employed the the Township for a number of years, was praised by Reeve John Irwin for being a concientious work-er who has made a real contribution the community. He worked hard two went on to say that Lynn will be missed possible service for and that the council wished him well in his retirement.

In response, Lynn said that he had enjoyed working for the township and with his fellow employees. He noted that there had been that there had been ups and downs during the time he was there but added that the council had always the township. He said that there was, a considerable improvement in facilities over the past years and that the present staff now had an excellent array of equipment to work with. He had worked or most worked on most most worked on most most of the equipment, grading side roads, snow-plowing, grass cutting and whatever else came along.

He said that he

With the membership of our own league, the Q.S.L., consisting of Wellington. Brighton and Madoc, there will be twelve teams competing for the C.O.H.L. championship.

The league has been divided into three divisions:

The McGregor The Ogden The Crowley Lindsay

Madoc Lindsay

Wellington Little Belling

Lindsay Little Britain Port Perry Madoc Wellington Port Hope Bowmanville

Bowmanville Brighton Port Perry
Ajax Lakefield Uxbridge
The schedule will consist of 3 home and 3 away games for each team within its own division and 1 crossover home and away game with each of the other 8 teams. The total games to be played will be 34(17 home - 17 away).

The playoff schedule will consist of the 1 & 4 place teams and 2 & 3 place teams of each division playing a best 4 out of 7 series. The winners of that series also play a best 4 out of 7 series, with the winner advancing to a single round robin playoff. The top two teams of the round robin then play a best 4 out of 7 series for the C.O.H.L. championship

Fill, Construction and Alteration to Waterways Regulation of the

Moira River Conservation Authority

The Moira River Consensation Authority wishes to advise the general public of its intent to proceed with the revision of its Fill Construction and Alteration to Waterways Regulation. This notification is being made to solicit public input for the revision process.

to solicit public input for the revision process.

The Authority first adopted a Fill and Construction Regulation in December, 1962. The Regulation was armended in 1970 and 1980 but it still did not adequately reflect the Authority's responsibilities and technical data regarding floodpian issues. In 1983, the Authority completed a flood risk mapping project his Mora River from Highway 401 to Highway 7. Floor risk mapping has also been produced for a portion of the Bell Creek watershed in the east end of the City of Belleville and mapping is now being produced for Dec Creek in the Village of Madoc.

Most children will eventually face a drugtaking decision, and their parents won't be anywhere in sight. Illegal drugs are available aimost anywhere they go and peer pressure can be overpowering.

It's up to the parents to take responsibility for keeping their children drug-free. Parents should begin discussing the dangers of drugs with their children starting when they are as young as nine or ten. Before they enter high school, children will have to make the decision whether or not to use drugs. Parental influence is an important factor in helping them say not to drugs.

Talk with your children often about the drug problem. Give them the facts about the scientifically proven dangers of drug abuse. But, be sure to listen to what they have to say about drugs, too. Honest, open, two-way discussions like these can be a tremendous help to your children.

For some children, learning about the dangers of drugs will be enough to stop them from using them. Others may choose to used drugs no matter what they are told. For these children, it's up to parents to take a firm stand against drug abuse.

Grounding a child may be a good disciplin-children, it's up to parents to take a firm stand against drug abuse. Grounding a child may be a good disciplinary action if drug use continues. It gives the parents a chance to talk more with the child and it may also work to separate him or her from peer pressure to use drugs.

If necessary, parents should not be afraid to get professional help. There are federal agencies, community mental health centres and parent groups to which to turn. Your pharmacist can help by pointing out your provincial or local drug and alcohol abuse authority. authority

Mrs. Marie Black-burn of Madoc is a winner. Like many of us, she was fighting the 'battle of the bulge' and in April of last year she joined the Madoc Chapter of T.O.P.S. (Take Off

Pounds Sensibly)
Now, just over a year later, she is not only enjoying her slimmer self but also the recognition of some 2500 TOPS members who attended their recent 3 day Provincial Rally Days in Ottawa.

For sticking to the

a second place award.

Mrs. Blackburn says she enjoys the programme because it allows her to eat whatever she wants. The emphasis she says is on regular balanced meals and good eating habits.

When asked if she'd like to tell our readers how much weight she has lost, hesitated and with a chuckle said,
'A considerable amount'.

Criminal Code Changes

ways.
Upright and just to the end of his days.
Sincere and kind in heart and mind.
What a beautiful memory he left behind. Lovingly remembered by wife Mary, and family.

RADFORD In loving memory of a dear husband. Clayton, who passed away June 30, 1981. So many things have happened.

Since you were called away. So many things to share with.

Had you been left to stay.

No one knows the grief I bear,

When families meet and you're not there.

The tears I shed can be wiped away,

But the ache in my heart will always stay.

Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by wile. Mary.

SHARP. In louing memory of Donald. A. Sharp. Passed were June 29: 1985. towing husband. Italier and grandlather. "
One year has passed. I feel as if he walks beside we all loved you dearly. Sady missed by Dalls. Doug and Ber. Authory and John. Donal and grandchildren and great-grandchildren; and brother Ernest.
